July 29, 2010

The Honorable Harry Reid
Majority Leader
U.S. Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

The Honorable John Boehner
Republican Leader
U.S. House of Representative
Washington, D.C. 20515

The Honorable Mitch McConnell
Republican Leader
U.S. Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Speaker Pelosi and Leaders Reid, Boehner, and McConnell:

The Latin America Trade Coalition — a broad-based group of more than 1,200 U.S. business and agricultural organizations, chambers of commerce, and companies that together employ more than 10 million American workers — urges Congress to engage aggressively with the administration to provide a timetable for addressing any outstanding issues with the U.S.-Colombia and U.S.-Panama Trade Promotion Agreements so that these agreements, like the U.S. Korea Free Trade Agreement (FTA), are prepared for congressional consideration when submitted. Doing so is more urgent than ever as the Canada-Colombia FTA nears implementation and as the recently signed EU-Colombia, EU-Panama, and Canada-Panama FTAs advance.

These trade agreements are about creating American jobs by leveling the playing field for trade. Today, more than 90% of all imports from Colombia and Panama enter the U.S. market duty free, but these countries continue to impose steep tariffs on our exports. These accords will eliminate the barriers U.S. exporters face and create new opportunities for the sale of our manufactured goods and agricultural products. In addition, they will open services markets, secure the intellectual property of U.S. inventors, researchers, and creative artists, and introduce enforceable protections for worker rights and the environment.

The benefits of approving these accords will be substantial. U.S. exports to Colombia and Panama have doubled in the past five years, underscoring the dynamism of these markets. More than 10,000 U.S. companies export their products to these two markets, and 85% of these are small and medium-sized businesses. Many more such firms could seize the benefits of exporting to these countries once the agreements sweep aside the high tariffs and other trade barriers, such as quotas and licensing fees, that deter many of America's smaller companies from exporting.

As President Obama has stated, "If America sits on the sidelines while other nations sign trade deals, we will lose the chance to create jobs on our shores." Indeed, a recent study by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce shows that tens of thousands of American workers will lose their jobs if the United States fails to implement these agreements. As noted, Canada and the European Union have concluded their own trade accords with Colombia and Panama. If we delay, Canadian and European manufacturers, farmers, and service providers will undercut their U.S. competitors in the Colombian and Panamanian markets. Unfortunately, this scenario is already unfolding. Following implementation of a new trade accord between Colombia and Mercosur, the U.S. share of Colombia's market for soybeans, corn, and wheat dropped by 69%, 65%, and 57%, respectively, in 2008-2009, with total U.S. farm exports to Colombia falling by nearly half.

Recent studies have found that one in every five U.S. jobs is tied to trade, and the boost in trade generated by America's FTAs has created more than five million jobs. Today more than ever, communities in the southern United States need the jobs trade creates as they grapple with the losses from the gulf oil spill. Ports along the southern border need exports growing to Colombia and Panama and small and medium-sized businesses and farmers in this region need the economic boost that the agreements with Panama and Colombia would represent for them given the larger share of their products that they export south of our borders.

The geostrategic importance of the agreements is also profound. In the case of Colombia, it will help lock in the gains of the past decade, which has seen violence fall to its lowest level in a generation. More than 40,000 fighters have been demobilized as insurgent groups have lost legitimacy, and the number of Colombians enrolled in school and the health care system has risen sharply. These sustained results are a triumph of bipartisan U.S. foreign policy and, even more, the hard work of so many brave Colombians, who proudly consider their country America's closest ally in the region. The trade agreement will build on this solid foundation.

In similar fashion, the agreement with Panama will strengthen the century-old U.S.-Panama partnership. From the time of the canal's construction, the United States and Panama have made common cause on issues from security to commerce. The $5 billion expansion of the Panama Canal presents significant opportunities for U.S. companies stemming from one of the largest public works project since China's Three Gorges Dam. With a remarkable one-third of its population speaking English fluently and a fully dollarized economy, Panama is a good friend and partner of the United States. The trade agreement will help Americans and Panamanians get even more benefits from these longstanding ties.

Inaction on these two trade agreements will cost American jobs as surely as their approval will generate new opportunities for American workers and farmers. For these reasons, the Latin America Trade Coalition urges you to expedite your work with the Administration to secure their approval before more U.S. jobs are lost.

Respectfully,
