

November 12, 2014

The Honorable John Boehner
Speaker of the House
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Speaker,

On behalf of the undersigned businesses and organizations, we are writing to urge immediate action on legislation to implement e-fairness. Locally-based retailers and wholesaler-distributors and their employees across the country expect Congress to make 2014 the last year in which Main Street businesses are burdened with a government-sanctioned price disadvantage, compared to their online competitors. The time to level the playing field has come.

The rapid growth of e-commerce should benefit all sellers. The status quo, however, affords special treatment to “remote sellers”, thereby distorting the marketplace and hindering the ability of many local brick-and-mortar businesses to compete. As you know, in every state with a sales tax, including Ohio, locally-based merchants have to collect sales taxes on the first dollar of sales.

There have been more than 30 Congressional hearings on this issue since 1994, including 3 hearings in the House Judiciary Committee in the past 3 years alone. Strong bipartisan support for e-fairness exists in both the House and the Senate. In fact, recent national polling results show that 7 in 10 consumers support legislation requiring online sellers to collect sales tax at the time of purchase just as local brick-and-mortar businesses must.

American businesses are poised to meet consumer demand, regardless of the channel used for purchasing merchandise. But taxes should be applied equally to those purchases, regardless of the channel through which the consumer chooses to purchase. Today’s marketplace needs a modern sales tax collection system to reflect reality. Proposed marketplace fairness legislation would balance economic parity with compliance and enforcement simplification, including free software. As well, we support efforts to provide robust audit and liability protection. It is time to level the playing field for all merchants.

We thank you for your consideration and are eager to work with you to pass e-fairness legislation that will provide parity and meaningful simplifications for all sellers.

Sincerely,
